The College.

Bro. Mason in last week's EVANGELIST gives a pretty accurate statement of the condition of Ashland College and makes a strong appeal for support. Last spring after we agreed to buy the College, a number of brethren started out as solicitors to make up $6000 in addition to what we had would very nearly cover the entire cost of the College, $20,000. But in this we failed getting only $3,000 instead of $6,000.

Now recently we are making another effort to raise $2,500. Twelve hundred dollars are now secured in Ohio, and I am safe to pledge $300 more, makes $1,500 for Ohio. Now if the other states will make up $1000 we will have the $2,500, the amount needed to make our first payment and save the College. If this is not done by the 3rd, of December all is lost. How much?

1st. Five hundred dollars cash that was paid when purchased.
2nd. Property worth $65,000.
3rd. All we ever paid in.
4th. Our credit.
5th. Our honor.
6th. The confidence and respect of our children and the world.
7th. The name of Progressive Brethren.

8th. Many of our young people would turn away from us in disgust. Can we afford to have this great calamity come upon us?

Great God save us from this impending doom. Almighty Father thou who could break the locks and open the prison doors to deliver thy people, come in this trying hour and break the locks and open the hearts that are closed up, and may they respond to this last appeal and save us from this dire calamity.

Yours for Christ.

JOSIAH KEIM.

We wish there were a good number of such College friends:

Put me down as another member to Company M. as I send $10 too for the fund. I want Ashland College out of debt. I wish I had more to give but I have not at this time. But thank God that he is willing to accept that which we do give, if we give it for his name. How lovely it is to do God's will. I do want to serve him more and more. I hope to do all I can for him. I am very much interested in the Sister's Society of Christian Endeavor. Hope the cause is prospering in Ashland: With my best wishes,

I am Your Sister,
ANNA L. DILTS.

A Timely Question.

"Father," said a little boy to his profane father, who had just invoked a curse on his soul if he failed to win a bet—"father are you willing God should take you at your word?"

"No," gasped the conscience-stricken man; "no, no."

This question of his little son stuck to him all day. He could not saw it off, saw as fast as he would! Suppose the great God should take him at his word! He left off work at an early hour, in much distress of mind, and in the evening went to a little prayer meeting in the neighborhood, with the awful question still sticking into him. It was sharper than a two-edged sword. Then he stated his case, and begged his neighbors to pray for him. It ended in his conversion. The swearer turned believer. "Oh," he said, "the most powerful preaching I ever heard was that anxious and solemn question of my little son."—Sel.

How to Cure Exaggeration.

Some habits are so unconsciously practiced that a moment to mend them is the only way to detect them. The beam in one's eye is less noticed than the mote in another person's eye.

A family while at the breakfast table one morning pledged to observe the strictest veracity for that day. A member of the family tells the "consequence."

As a first-fruit of the resolve, we asked the one who suggested it:

"What made you so late at breakfast this morning?"

She hesitated, begun with "because I couldn't"—and then, true to her compact, said: "The truth is, I was lazy and didn't hurry, or I might have been down long ago."

Presently one of them remarked that she had been very cold adding, "I was never so cold in my life."

An inquiring look caused the last speaker to modify her statement with, "Oh, I don't think I was so cold after all."

A third remark to the effect that Miss So-and-so was the homeliest girl in the city, we recalled as soon as made, the speaker being compelled to own that Miss So-and-so was only rather plain, instead of being excessively homely.

So it went on throughout the day, causing much merriment, which was good-naturedly accepted by the subjects, and giving rise to constant correction in the interests of truth.

One thing became more and more surprising, however, to each one of us, and that was the amount of cutting down which our most careful statements demanded under this new law.—Ex.

An intelligent person when hurt will at once procure a bottle of Salvation Oil. It is the best thing to cure swellings, burns or wounds. All druggists sell it at twenty-five cents a bottle.

Things Money Cannot Do.

Some boys and girls have an idea that money can do almost anything; but this is a mistake. Money, it is true, can do a great deal, but it can not do everything. I could name you a thousand things it cannot buy. It was meant for good, and it is a good thing to have, but all this depends on how it is used. If used wrongly it is an injury rather than a benefit. Beyond all doubt, however, there are many things better than it is, and which it cannot buy, no matter how much we may have of it.

If a man has not a good education, all his money will never buy it for him. He can scarcely ever make up for his early waste of opportunities.

Neither will wealth itself give a man or a woman good manners. Next to good morals and good health, nothing is of more importance than easy, graceful, self-possessed manners. But they cannot be had for more money.

Money cannot purchase a good conscience. If a poor man, or a boy, or a girl,—any one, has a clear conscience that gives off a tone like a soundbell when touched by the millionaire who does not possess such a conscience. Good principles are better than gold.—S. S. VICTOR.

The use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, stimulates the secretions, and imparts new life and vigor to every function of the body. For nearly half a century, it has remained unrivaled as the best blood medicine ever discovered. Be convinced by a trial.

Large Cities.

The ten largest cities in the world, according to the latest estimates, are London, which with its suburbs, has a population of 4,764,312; Paris, 2,296,023; Canton (China), 1,500,000; New York, 1,449,000; Aitchi (Japan), 1,322,040; Berlin, 1,122,330; Tokyo (Japan) 987,887; Philadelphia, 875,000; Calcutta, 766,298; and Vienna, 726,101. There are several cities in China which claim a population of 10,000,000, but as the claim is not based on any systematic enumeration, they are not included in this list.

When, from any cause, the digestive and secretory organs become disordered, they may be stimulated to healthy action by the use of Ayer's Cathartic Pills. These Pills are prescribed by the best physicians, and are for sale at all the drug stores.

Politeness.

A boy who is polite to father and mother is likely to be polite to everybody else. A boy lacking politeness to his parents, has the semblance of courtesy in society, but is never truly polite in spirit, and is in danger, as he becomes familiar, of betraying his real want of courtesy. We are all in danger of living too much for the outside world, for the impression which we make in society, not coveting the good opinion of those who are in a sense a part of ourselves, and who will continue to sustain and be interested in us, notwithstanding these defects of deportment and character. We say to every boy and every girl, cultivate the habit of courtesy and propriety at home—in the kitchen as well as in the parlor, and you will be sure in other places to deport yourself in a becoming and attractive manner.

A man who has practiced medicine for 40 years, ought to know salt from sugar; read what he says.

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 10, 1887.

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience, have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

Yours Truly,

L. L. GORSUCH, M. D.

Office, 215 Summit St.

We will give $100 for any case of Catarrh that can not be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure. Taken internally.
